

TRANSPARENCY LEGAL ADVICE CENTRE

"Towards an Ireland where those who wish to Speak Up about wrongdoing are treated fairly"

Transparency Legal Advice Centre ("TLAC")

Donor Charter

As an independent Law Centre, regulated by the Charities Regulatory Authority, the Law Society and the Companies Registration Office, committed to the support of Irish whistleblowers, TLAC aims to comply with the CRA's Statement of Guiding Principles for fundraising.

Our pledge is to treat all donors with respect, honesty and openness.

We commit to being accountable and transparent so that you as a donor can have full confidence in TLAC. We promise to effectively apply your gifts to TLAC for their intended purposes.

We commit to you, our donors and prospective donors, that we will:

- Keep you informed of TLAC Mission and the way in which we intend to use the donated resources.
- Provide you with access to our most recent financial statements.
- Use donations for the purposes for which they were given.
- Appropriately acknowledge and recognise donations.
- Handle donations with respect and confidentiality to the extent provided by law.
- Ensure that all individuals representing TLAC act professionally at all times.
- Let you know whether those seeking donations on behalf of TLAC are paid staff or volunteers.
- Provide easy access to agreed procedures for making and responding to feedback and comments.
- Comply with data protection legislation, including deleting your name from our mailing list if you request it.
- Not share your contact details or other personal information with a third party.
- Provide you with prompt, truthful and forthright answers to questions you might have of TLAC.

How to reach us:

If you have a comment, query or feedback about TLAC's work, or about donating to TLAC that you would like to share with TLAC, you can contact TLAC in writing, by phone or by email. Please note TLAC does not operate a drop-in service at the office. The best way to contact us is by email to the Managing Solicitor, Judy O'Loan, as follows: joloan@transparencylegal.ie
